

Innovative Biominerals Area Mihoko Maruyama Laboratory

Innovative biominerals area is a new laboratory established in October 2022. We aim to realize "future medical innovation that supports healthy longevity" in an aging society. In particular, we are conducting medical-engineering collaborative research on biominerals (kidney stones, bones, etc.).

